

Contemporary Flayed Turkish Tiger Rug no. j4852

Description

A striking modern hand-knotted Turkish pictorial rug featuring a boldly stylized tiger rendered in vivid, high-contrast color. The graphic composition presents the tiger in a front-facing, symmetrical stance, its form articulated through expressive linear striping and saturated hues of turquoise, coral red, lime green, and warm orange, set against a softly striated neutral ground. Woven entirely of wool, the rug demonstrates skilled craftsmanship with a dense, even pile and crisp articulation of detail, reflecting contemporary Anatolian workshop production. The deliberate simplicity of the background allows the powerful animal motif to dominate, giving the piece a sculptural, almost totemic presence. Both playful and commanding, the design bridges folk inspiration with modern graphic sensibility. This rug functions equally well as a statement floor piece or as textile wall art, ideal for contemporary, eclectic, or art-forward interiors seeking a singular visual focal point.
