

Antique Persian Sultanabad Rug no. 6899

Description

A breathtaking antique Persian Sultanabad rug with fascinating colors and interesting formal all-over palette. circa 1880 Antique Sultanabad rugs are one of the few 20th century Persian weaving groups that produced a great variety of formats from room size to palace-size carpets. They created a limited series of rugs in very difficult to find, generous widths that are ideal for living room and sitting room settings. This one is an exemplary example of one.
